Father’s Day: Wishing a very Happy Father’s Day to all Father’s.
May all Father’s who have died Rest in Peace.

Dad’s.

A father is an ordinary man doing his best to stand in for Superman.
A source of good, but usually expendable, advice.
A very near expert A man who knows, but would like to look it up, just to be on the safe side. A man who goes down fighting.
Dads are most ordinary men turned by love into adventurers, storytellers, singers of songs.
Dads can do anything. The youths of Dads were packed with excitement and their minds are packed with anecdotes.
They have sound views on politics, dogs, sport and saving the environment.
They have drawers, boxes and sheds full of valuable junk.
They can tell unforgettable stories.
There really is a touch of magic in a Dad.
They are no longer ordinary men. They are special.
We love them for all the things they are and the love they give us unconditionally.
Dads know more about things than you’d credit.
Only it’s best to check before you hand it in as homework.

Thought: Life is under no obligation to give us what we expect.
