Thank You and Farewell after 340 Years: We wish the Carmelite Sisters, Loughrea happiness in the future and assure them of our prayers. Generation after generation of people went to ask the Sisters for prayers in times of trouble or sickness or need. Day after day, night after night the Sisters brought those needs before God. For many, great peace came as a result of those prayers. Miracles of the impossible becoming possible. For this prayerful presence of the Sisters we are immensely grateful. However, our gratitude is mixed with the sadness that parting brings and a real sense of the loss of something uniquely special. You have prayed so much for us, we now pray for you and remember you in our humble prayers during the coming days and weeks and months of great change in your lives.

Fr Michael Griffin Anniversary: This week marks one hundred years since the murder during the War of Independence of Father Michael Griffin, a Priest of the Diocese of Clonfert. He is buried in the grounds of the Cathedral.

Thought: Life is amazing. And then it is awful. And then it is amazing again. And in between the amazing and the awful, it is ordinary and mundane and routine. Breathe in the amazing, hold on through the awful, and relax and exhale through the ordinary. That is just living a heart breaking, soul healing, amazing, awful, ordinary life. And it is breathtakingly beautiful. (L R Knost)
